THE IVM INFORMER

IVM Grand Opening

The exact date the building opened for occupancy has yet to be determined. Based on the September 3, 1920 date for the building permit it is possible that construction started well before the end of 1920. It likely opened for occupancy in mid to late 1921. It is believed that units were rented as they were completed. By February of 1922, most units were occupied.

Do you know anyone with a 1921 third or fourth quarter telephone book? At last check, Burton's copies had been liberated. The 1922 Detroit Social Register went to print in Nov. of 1921. Several IVM tenants were listed but only two had telephone numbers: Guy Brewster Cady and Dr. and Mrs. William M. Donald. With Detroit's rapid growth, telephone books were published three or four times a year.

It is assumed that George W. Mathews or James S. Fisher of Mathews and Fisher, Inc., rental agents, would have been among the first occupants and first to install a phone. It is also assumed that with all the population growth it took some time to get a phone installed.

THE 1921 NEIGHBORHOOD

This is a quick look at who lived in the area at the time IVM was built. Going Southwest on Jefferson toward downtown the second house was the residence of Julius Stroh. Edsel and Eleanor Ford were next, at the intersection of Van Dyke in a house believed to have been built by the brother of Julius, brewer Bernard Stroh. This was the Ford's second house, the first being on Iroquois. Their third

Strategic Plan for 2026-2030:

The IVM Board and the IVM Business Manager have been developing a detailed Strategic Plan for 2026-2030. This Plan contains 4 areas of focus, including:

- MAINTENANCE

The Board would like to take the opportunity to share an update and overview of the plan in an open, voluntary meeting on:

Sunday, May 18

IN THE BLUE ROOM
FROM 4-6PM

A secondary webinar will also be announced at a later date. This will be a preview of the plan before it is shared at the June 29 annual meeting.

Plumbing Emergency Preparedness

PREVENTIVE MEASURES SAVE DOLLARS

We have recently had several building wide water shutdowns. Some for major pipe replacement, others related to individual tower issues. We believe that the attached document will help decrease water consumption and may prevent a water emergency.

In conjunction with a 2016 effort to decrease water consumption and initiate water conservation measures, we proactively set up a chart containing a checklist. This straightforward refresher, if used, will help us save and prevent a water emergency from occurring.

The existing tenants of Emergency Preparedness can be utilized proactively in a variety of ways that all amount to protecting Co-owners and Residents. Help us help you by completing the checklist.

IVM PLUMBING PREVENTIVE MAINTENANCE CO-OWNERS RESPONSIBILITY CHECKLIST

The objective of the initial 2016 IVM Plumbing Study Survey was to determine where and how to reduce our annual water bill appropriations by 6% -10% over the next 2 years.

Adhering to the following best practice guidelines will assist with our goal to decrease the billable water usage, resulting in a sustainable reduction in the association's annual water bill. Conceivably this should result in an increase in annual refunds to co-owners.

If you're interested in running, we kindly ask that you submit your resume in person or via Fax (313-824-0412) or e-mail (ivmanor@sbcglobal.net) to the management office by close of business (4:00 p.m.) of June 2, 2025. This is an important part of the nomination process, and we're here to support you every step of the way.

PLEASE KEEP THE FOLLOWING KEY DATES IN MIND:

- Resume Submission Deadline: June 2, 2025, 4pm
- Meet the Candidates Night: June 23, 2025, 7pm
- Annual Meeting: June 29, 2025, 4pm

house was built on land Henry Ford purchased from the mother of 1921 IVM resident, Francis O. Gaukler. To this day it is still referred to as Gaukler Pointe.

At 7601 E. Jefferson you could shop at the A & P Tea Co. There was a rumor that an A & P was also located in the Alden Park Towers. There appears to be remnants of a door into the parking garage at the end of IVM's west driveway. Could this have been our own secret entrance to Alden Park Towers?

Do you remember the nice townhouses on Jefferson that were torn down so you could get a better look at the short-lived Riverview Hospital? Well, John C. Lodge lived there in 1922. He was a former Mayor and longtime City Council member. The Lodge freeway was named after him despite the fact that he did not drive and never owned a car.

Do you remember the original Peking Pavilion just west of Townsend, now twin senior towers? The mahogany booths and white table cloths were already serving Chinese and American dishes daily when IVM was built.

Between Sheridan and Helen, Jefferson was home for numerous amusement parks and entertainment venues such as:

- Molitor Canoe House
- Palace Gardens
- Over the Top
- Detroit Steel Coaster & Park Co

- Knickerbocker Theater
- Belle Isle Coliseum Co
- McLain Amusement
- Jefferson Concession Co
- Pier Ball Room
- Knickerbocker Amusement
- Luna Park Amusement
- American Racing Derby

Heavy industry set in: Detroit Stove Works (Jewel); Morgan & Wright Tire Co. (later Uniroyal); the Michigan Stove Co (Garland). The 30' tall wood Garland stove, built for the 1893 Chicago World's Fair, was on display in front of the factory.

In planning this magnificent super-apartment house, to be known as "1700 Jefferson Avenue East," no efforts were spared by Julius Berman, president of the Indian Village Manor Company, in searching for the most modern, convenient and luxurious appointments. ICELESS REFRIGERATORS throughout were naturally considered necessary equipment for a building that is to stand in the midst of an Italian garden, and that will have a private dock on the Detroit river for the exclusive use of its tenants. It is also natural that in a building such as this, where the best only is to be employed, that Frigidaire iceless refrigerators have been specified.

After the exposition, the giant stove was placed on the property of the Michigan Stove Co., seen here in 1915.

BEFORE AND AFTER:

These photos depict the Pilot Windows Project we started at the end of 2024. There were 3 windows that we targeted. They were all on the 7th floor in stairwell L/N, B/D and A/C. Identified as showing the worst signs of deterioration, we selected B/D and L/N for new energy-rated replacement windows. We made necessary repairs to the A/C unit and sealed the walls.

We will check the new energy efficient stairwell windows and the new sealant on the A/C window over the next 18 months and reevaluate their effectiveness.

The City of Detroit has begun using the Property Maintenance Code to bring buildings up to Code. All individuals who rent units in the building must follow the City Code and receive a Certificate of Occupancy. More information on this Property Maintenance Code will be presented at the Annual Meeting June 29, 2025.

This photo shows the before and after of a badly deteriorated (7G) window. The process was lengthy and had the potential of affecting units below and wall integrity. With the aid of our legal team this matter has been resolved.

Why we implemented the “New No Rug Washing Policy.”

Before and after

Our Laundry Room contractor has replaced 3 motors and pumps as a direct result of disintegrating rug material. We were notified that this is untenable, accordingly, we implemented the new policy.

Tips for Choosing the Right Air Conditioning Unit

As summer approaches, many co-owners may be planning to upgrade their window air conditioning units in preparation for warmer weather. With a wide range of models available, the Energy Committee offers the following suggestions to help you choose a unit that is both effective and energy efficient.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS WHEN CHOOSING AN AC UNIT:

Room Size & Cooling Capacity: Measure the square footage of the space you want to cool. This will help you determine the appropriate BTU (British Thermal Units) rating. Higher BTU ratings are necessary for larger rooms to ensure effective cooling.

Energy Efficiency: Look for Energy Star certified air conditioners, which are designed to use less energy and provide better insulation. Make sure the unit is properly sealed to prevent cool air from escaping and to reduce energy waste.

Noise Level: Check the decibel (dB) rating of each unit. Quieter models are ideal for bedrooms, home offices, or living spaces where noise levels can affect comfort.

TYPE OF AIR CONDITIONER:

Consider the pros and cons of each type.

- Window Units: Easy to install but may be less energy efficient.
- Split Systems: Offer excellent efficiency and performance but require professional installation.
- Portable Units: Flexible for small or temporary spaces, though often less powerful.

Maintenance Needs: Regular upkeep (like changing filters and cleaning coils) helps ensure optimal performance and extends the lifespan of your unit.

Window Unit (Above), Split System (Middle), Portable Unit (Bottom) .

Smart Features: Some models include smart thermostats, Wi-Fi connectivity, and mobile app control. These features enhance convenience and allow for more precise energy management.

Be sure to check the IVM Co-Owner Manual for guidance on AC unit placement and safety requirements. For detailed product reviews and comparisons, visit the Consumer Reports Air Conditioner Buying Guide.

The Strands' Heat Pump Update

Earlier this year, Vern and Jane Strand installed two heat pumps in their unit. They report a 30-kWh reduction in electricity usage this month compared to last—an encouraging sign that heat pumps are an efficient solution for heating (and soon cooling) individual units at IVM. We look forward to tracking its performance as the system switches to cooling mode this summer.

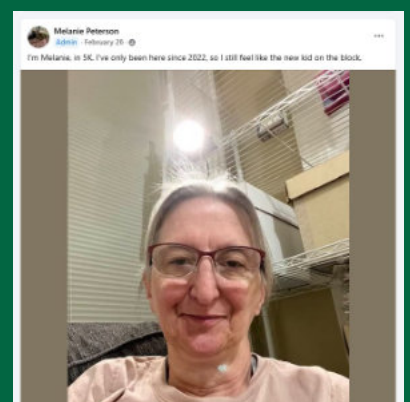

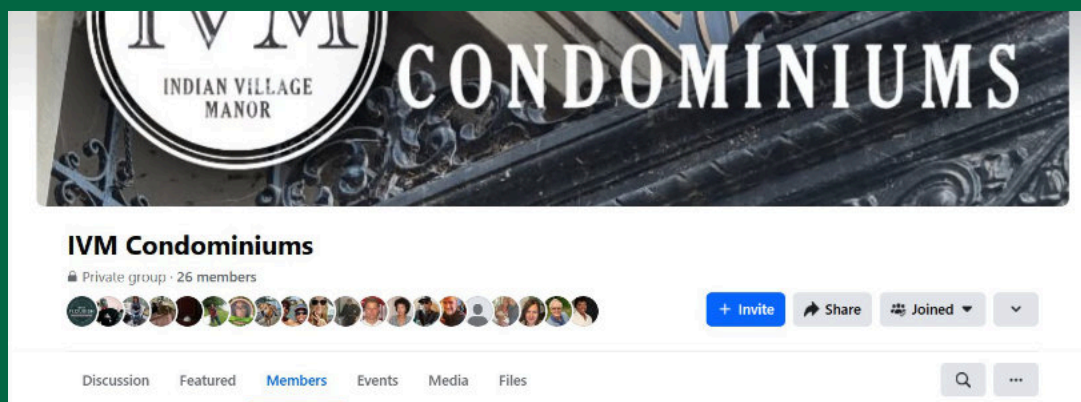

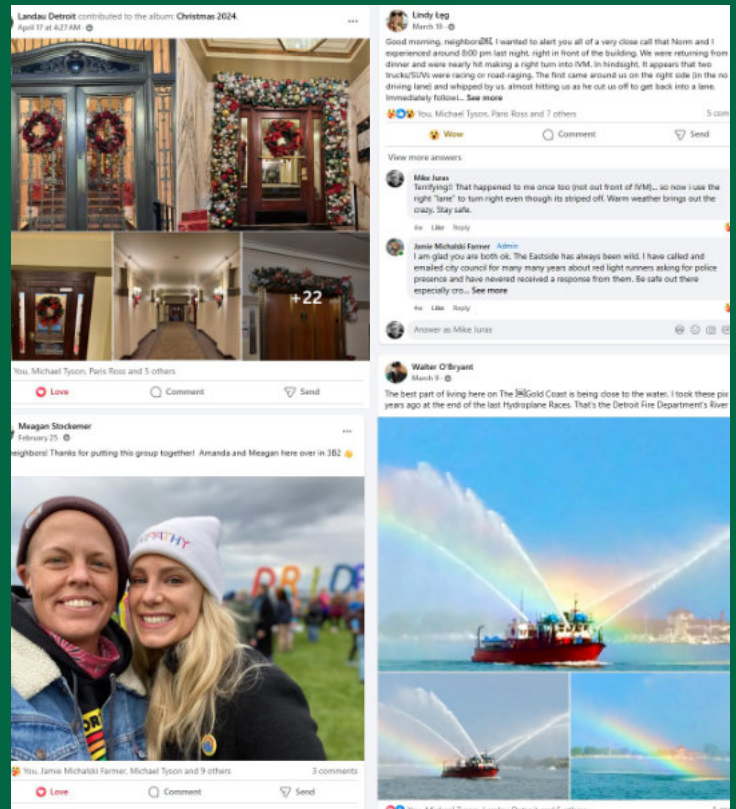

Every co-owner plays a part in building a more energy-conscious community at IVM. Thank you for taking steps—big or small—toward greater sustainability!

Private IVM Facebook Group

To complement IVM's public-facing Facebook page, we recently added an owners/residents-only Facebook group. We currently have 26 members, and we've been getting to know one another via our group. Posts have included comments and questions about the building and neighborhood, and sharing of recent activities and personal get-to-know-you information. The more, the merrier, so if you'd like to participate, search for "IVM Condominiums" in Facebook. You'll be asked to agree to group rules, and to answer a couple of questions that will be easy if you really live here. Once you're a member, start sharing and get to know your neighbors!

NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT SPOTLIGHT:

THE FORMER UNIROYAL SITE ALONG DETROIT'S EAST RIVERFRONT

Location: South-West corner of Jefferson Ave and East Grand

Project Overview: The new proposal envisions a multi-sport complex and youth academy, backed by Pistons owner Tom Gores and Arn Tellem, as part of a push to bring a WNBA team to Detroit. The facility would support both outdoor and indoor sports, from soccer and flag football to basketball and dance.

This recreational focus builds on recent progress, including the 2023 opening of the Uniroyal Promenade—a half-mile Riverwalk extension revitalizing the long-vacant site..

STANTON YARDS – LITTLE VILLAGE MARINA REDEVELOPMENT

Location: 9636 E. Jefferson Ave.

Project Overview: A 13-acre redevelopment transforming a former marina into a cultural and recreational hub. Plans include over 80,000 square feet of commercial and creative space, 85 boat slips, and programmed waterfront parks. The project received a Commercial Facilities Exemption Certificate from the Detroit City Council in November 2024.

EAST JEFFERSON CORRIDOR STREETSCAPE ENHANCEMENT

Location: East Jefferson Ave. from Rivard St. to Alter Rd.

Project Overview: A comprehensive reconstruction project aimed at revitalizing East Jefferson Avenue. The initiative includes new street surfaces, sidewalks, and the replacement and relocation of underground utilities. Goals are to increase access to jobs, neighborhoods, and public spaces; support corridor businesses; and transform the corridor into a destination. Construction began in Spring 2023.

EAST VILLAGE CULTURAL DISTRICT – THE SHEPHERD

Location: Parkview Street, near East Jefferson

Project Overview: Adaptive reuse of a 110-year-old church into a cultural district featuring galleries, a library, classrooms, a boutique bed & breakfast, a skatepark supported by Tony Hawk, a sculpture garden dedicated to Charles McGee, and public green-spaces.

LANTERN is the headquarters for Detroit-based arts nonprofits Progressive Art Studio Collective and Signal-Return, as well as music organization Assemble Sound. The development also includes local small businesses Coup D'etat, Cølect, and Cafe Franco, as well as several artist studio spaces.

Neighbor Spotlight:

To encourage neighbors to know each other better, the Communications Committee will profile two residents of Indian Village Manor in each edition of All Manor of Things. Subjects are chosen randomly, and participation is not mandatory. The hope is for everyone to feel free to greet their neighbor in the hallway and introduce themselves to each other. Everyone has a story to tell.

JEFF AND TAMARA STASSEN, 7E

The Stassens have lived at IVM for seven years with their dog, Poppy. They love our historic building and the quality, beauty, and privacy it offers—alongside a strong sense of community—more than in all their years as homeowners. Both grew up in Dearborn, where they raised their daughters, Sara and Anna, except for two years in Hiroshima, Japan for Tamara's work. In Dearborn, Tamara and Jeff's families were close—so close that Jeff's brother married Tamara's sister. They married in 1988 and have known each other since middle school.

Jeff is retired from a tennis career but still owns and operates the Birmingham Racquet Club. Tamara retired from a 30-year career at Ford Motor Company and now works remotely doing CAD work for Flex-N-Gate.

Jeff volunteers with the USTA Midwest Section and is currently President, traveling nationally to promote tennis. He also leads the Hamtramck Community Tennis Association to grow the game locally.

Tamara enjoys cooking, and both love each other, boating, and traveling with family—especially to Hilton Head and Savannah. They are members of the Indian Village Tennis Club and the Detroit Yacht Club, where they dock their '69 Chris-Craft.

MABLE JONES, 7M

Thirteen years ago, Mable Jones, a native Detroiter, moved to Indian Village Manor after 24 years in Farmington. She has three brothers and one sister. Mable earned a BS in Special Education from Eastern Michigan, an MS from Iowa State, and a PhD from LaSalle in Philadelphia. She worked at Wayne State, Ford, and retired from AAA after 34 years working across departments with every executive.

She gives back as a Trustee for Children's Hospital Foundation, Loyola H.S., Catholic Charities, and UNCF, and volunteers with the Wright Museum and NAACP's Annual Dinner Committee.

Always smiling, Mable loves the IVM community, which feels like family. She served as Secretary of the IVM Board, co-chaired the Plumbing Committee, and led the Social Committee—organizing memorable events like the St. Patrick's Day party, Chicken & Waffle afternoons, White Party, and Movie/Game Nights.

In retirement, Mable just wants to have fun. Once you're her friend, you're a friend for life. She cherishes her Delta Sigma Theta sisters and has been in a book club for over 30 years, now expanded across Detroit, Atlanta, and Florida, with a tri-city "Book Club Convention" every three years.

Beautification Committee: Temporary Fix

New sofa in the Riverside entry?

The Beautification Committee and the Board are working toward a better look, but that couch is temporary! The old sofa was too low and difficult for many to get up and out of. When one of our former residents was moving out, the Board was able to replace that old furniture with a temporary replacement.

As repairs to the leaky water-pipe (on the other side of the bubbling paint) are completed; the wall has time to dry, and is eventually repaired, your Beautification Committee is making plans for an updated look for the Riverside Lobby. The Strategic Plan will take years to complete major projects; however, once some infrastructure issues are handled, the Beautification Committee will be at work to improve the look of IVM.
